Welcome

TO THE FEBRUARY EDITION OF BLUE HORIZONS

It's already shaping up to be a busy year here at ROL, and just around the corner is our 30th Anniversary in March. Three decades has flown by, we've seen a lot, achieved a lot, and sent our customers on almost half a million cruise holidays. Look out for your Anniversary Special edition of Blue Horizons next month, and an anniversary surprise!

This edition is a delightful mixture, we've got Caribbean deals galore, exclusive pricing - and we mean exclusive - exotic trips to the South Pacific, Amazon, Vietnam and Cambodia, and, closer to home, no-fly cruises direct from the UK. Some of the offerings in this edition you will recognise from Channel 5's 'Susan Calman's Cruises of a Lifetime'.

For solo travellers we've sourced bestselling itineraries from Cunard and Fred. Olsen, from only £799^{pp}. If you are feeling adventurous, there's a very low single supplement on page 46 with HX to visit the famed Northwest Passage, for a limited time only!

Happy Cruising!

ROL CRUISE NEWS

Great news! We've been shortlisted for two awards in the Top 50 Travel Agencies 2025 by TTTG!

The Travel Industry Awards will take place on Wednesday 24th September 2025 - taking place at the exciting new venue - The Roundhouse, Camden. Wish us luck!

We're also excited to share our recent Macmillan fundraising efforts! This year we successfully raised £20,000 and our aim is to of course surpass this in 2025! We've received fantastic feedback from Macmillan who have shared that the 2024 donation could pay for the development of a digital (e-learning) module on a topic such as person-centred Primary Care, allowing professionals to increase their knowledge of the topic and reach out to other professionals in the same role.

DESTINATION HIGHLIGHTS

Heraklion, the vibrant capital of Crete, is a blend of ancient wonders and modern delights. Home to the legendary Palace of Knossos, a testament to the Minoan civilisation, Heraklion invites visitors to journey through time.

Santorini is a jewel of the Aegean Sea, renowned for its stunning beauty. Perched atop volcanic cliffs, its whitewashed buildings and breathtaking sunsets create an iconic landscape.

Jane Archer is one of the UK's leading cruise journalists and cruise expert for the Daily Telegraph. She has been sharing her experiences with Blue Horizons' readers for the past 18 years.

Gosh has it really been more than 30 years ago since I first went to Singapore? Back in 1993 I had three amazing nights in the city where naturally I had to stroll down Orchard Road, imbibe a Singapore Sling (or two) at Raffles Bar and dine at one of the hawkers stalls.

The city is small but packed with things to do. I visited Chinatown and Little India, took a bumboat ride down the Singapore River, passing the statue of Sir Stamford Raffles at the spot where he is thought to have first set foot on the island in 1819; of course I did a harbour cruise to see the city skyline in all its skyscraper glory. It was one of my first trips to Asia and so exciting.

Fast forward to my next visit 25 years later and Singapore had changed. Not the excitement; that was still front and centre. But it had grown - literally.

They had reclaimed land from the sea, built more skyscrapers and opened the Gardens by the Bay, home to Supertrees (vertical gardens that put on a sound and light show every evening) and vast biodomes, one housing a cloud forest; the other planted with flowers and trees from around the world. You could stay there for hours. I know because I did.

Into this world comes Celebrity Cruises with a 13-night voyage to Bali in November 2026 that island-hops around Thailand, Malaysia and Indonesia, ticking off beaches, rainforests and temples en route.

It's a terrific cruise, missing just one thing - time in Singapore at the start. So kudos to the team at ROL, who have paired the cruise with three free nights with breakfast at a five-star Sofitel hotel on Sentosa Island, which is connected to Singapore by road and cable car, and packed with beaches, theme parks, restaurants and more.

You can afford to pack in loads of sightseeing as there's time to rest during a sea day once on the cruise, but not for long as your ship, Celebrity Millennium, arrives early in the popular Thai island of Phuket on day three. Swimming, snorkeling, golf; Phuket has it all, along with speedboat rides to Khao Phing Kan, aka James Bond Island due to its starring role in the 007 movie The Man with the Golden Gun.

As it's a two-day call, you can be out and about after dark and, what luck, there's just time on the second afternoon to visit Walking Street market, which gets going in Phuket Town every Sunday at 4pm and has everything from food and clothing to entertainment.

Just be back on board before Millennium sets sails that evening, next stop the island of Langkawi in Malaysia, where you can go in search of sea eagles on a cruise through mangroves in Kilim Geoforest Park and head to the top of Mount Machinchang on one of the steepest cable cars in the world.

There's another overnight in Penang, an island off the west coast of Malaysia with a fascinating mix of Malay, Chinese and Indian cultures. George Town, the capital, for temples, colonial history and lunch (Penang is known as the gourmet capital of Malaysia); outside the city a funicular wends its scenic way to the top of Penang Hill for great views over the town and island.

Lively Kuala Lumpur, the capital of Malaysia, is up next (don't miss Chinatown and the view from the top of KL Tower), before Millennium crosses the South China Sea to Indonesia for calls into Celukan Bawang on the north coast of Bali and the island of Lombok.

Between them, they have hot springs, waterfalls and temples, while a day in Benoa, on Bali's south coast, before disembarking is time enough to visit Ubud Elephant Safari Park, go white-water rafting on the Ayung River or explore the maze of bustling streets and markets in nearby Kuta.

That's four countries, 18 nights (allowing for flights) and one amazing holiday. Who could want more?

EXPLORING SINGAPORE

Singapore goes by many names - the Red Dot, the Garden City, Lion the City - but none adequately sum up its dynamic appeal. As a city-state, Singapore is both the country and its capital and this immaculately clean region is one of many contrasts. Ultra-modern skyscrapers overlook historic temples, while a tropical rainforest lies a few miles outside the urban buzz of the central Business District. Walk through the bustling streets of Chinatown, discover the vibrant district of Little India or visit Marina Bay with towering skyscrapers and futuristic architecture dominating your view. Greenery grows from rooftops to reinforce the island's moniker as the Garden City, while the Gardens by the Bay overflows with flowers, ferns and shrubs. Although just 31 miles wide and 16 miles from top to bottom, there's so much to see and do.

Sensational Sydney

Sydney is one of the world's most exciting, must-see modern cities. Home to the famous Harbour Bridge and Opera House – two of the most iconic cityscapes on Earth – the capital of New South Wales has a visual wow factor that most other cities can only dream of. The imposing Darling Harbour is the hub of waterside life, with the revered Royal Botanic Garden nearby. For the more adventurous, Sydney Tower's outdoor platform, the Skywalk™, offers 360-degree views of the city.

Awe-Inspiring Auckland

Stretched over a volcanic field on New Zealand's North Island is multicultural Auckland. This thriving hub offers everything you would expect – enchanting scenery at every turn, fascinating Maori heritage and friendly locals. The urban centre occupies a narrow isthmus between two harbours, while the outer region boasts beautiful beaches, fertile farmlands and rainforest covered hills. One of the best ways to appreciate Auckland's amazing vistas is from the 328m tall Sky Tower which offers impressive 360-degree views of the city.

Staff Stories: MY JOURNEY THROUGH VIETNAM AND CAMBODIA

ROL Cruise team members Laura and Gemma were recently lucky enough to journey through Vietnam and Cambodia on an extraordinary cruise with APT.

Here, Laura shares her week with APT...

DAY 1

Arrival in Ho Chi Minh City

Our journey began with a smooth arrival in Ho Chi Minh City. Before we had even cleared passport control, an APT representative greeted us, fast-tracked us through the process, and guided us to meet our tour director. A short transfer later, we arrived at the stunning 5★ Grand Park Hyatt Hotel, perfectly located just a five-minute walk from the river.

DAY 2

Exploring Ho Chi Minh City

With a free day to explore, we dove into the city's rich history and culture. Stops included the War Museum, the historic Post Office, Notre Dame Cathedral and the vibrant Ben Thanh Market. Dinner that evening was a treat – a three-course tasting menu at Luke Nguyen's Michelin-starred Vietnam House, where every bite celebrated the flavours of Vietnam.

DAY 3

From City to Cruise

The morning began with APT's Freedom of Choice activities: Gemma opted for an exhilarating motorbike tour of Ho Chi Minh City while I enjoyed a hands-on cooking class and a visit to a local market. Afterwards, we regrouped and transferred to My Tho to board our luxurious ship, Mekong Serenity. A light lunch, a safety drill and cocktails set the tone for the adventure ahead as we cruised toward Cai Be. We had a delicious dinner at the popular Vietnam House and enjoyed a tasty cocktail exclusive for APT guests.

DAY 4

Cai Be and Sa Dec

We began the day with an excursion to Cai Be aboard a traditional sampan boat. We explored the riverside town and visited a rice wine and coconut candy factory. A visit to the town's beautiful French Cathedral rounded out the morning. Back on the ship, we enjoyed lunch as we sailed to Sa Dec, where the afternoon brought more adventures. Highlights included a walk through a bustling local market, a visit to the historic Lover's House (Marguerite Duras's House), and a stunning Cao Dai Temple. The day ended with dinner and a fun-filled karaoke evening as we set sail for Tan Chau.

DAY 5

Tan Chau and the Border Crossing

In Tan Chau, we toured the town by rickshaw, stopping at a silk workshop and a rattan weaving workshop before a visit to Evergreen Island. There, we met a local family and gained insight into life on the island. The afternoon was spent sailing toward the Cambodian border, where we enjoyed leisure time by the pool and a spring roll-making lesson. The evening brought a five-course feast in the Indochine speciality restaurant, complete with fruit carving demonstrations.

DAY 6

Phnom Penh

We woke early to watch the ship sail into Phnom Penh, where the Mekong, Bassac, and Tonle Sap rivers converge. At 8 a.m., we joined a sobering tour of the Killing Fields, learning about Cambodia's tragic history under the Khmer Rouge. This was followed by a visit to the Genocide Museum, providing further insight into this devastating chapter. In the afternoon, we explored Phnom Penh by tuk-tuk, enjoying a one-hour city tour before returning to the ship for a traditional Cambodian dinner and a mesmerising performance of traditional dance.

DAY 7

Koh Chen and Oudong

Our final full day began with a visit to a Buddhist monastery, where we received a special blessing from the monks – a truly peaceful and memorable moment. Next, we explored Koh Chen, a UNESCO heritage site. Reluctantly, we returned to the ship for the journey home, our hearts full of unforgettable memories from this extraordinary adventure.

Forests Help Tackle Climate Change

DID YOU KNOW?

www.twosides.info

Climate change refers to the long-term changes in temperatures and weather patterns. These changes may be caused naturally, but since the 1800s, human activities like burning fossil fuels like coal, oil and gas have been the main driver of climate change.¹

The European paper industry is building on decades of work done to make its industrial model sustainable and circular, making it one of the most sustainable industries in Europe. Its key raw material pulp, derived from processing wood, is intrinsically sustainable, sourced from responsibly managed forests.²

Greenhouse gas emissions act like a blanket wrapped around the earth, trapping the sun's heat and raising temperatures.

Forests play a critical role in mitigating CO2 levels, but reducing emissions from manufacturing processes is just as essential as protecting forest resources. The European paper industry's carbon emissions have reduced by 50% per tonne of product from 1990 to 2022 and increased the share of renewable energy consumption to 61%.³

Examples of greenhouse gas emissions that are causing climate change include carbon dioxide and methane. These come from using gasoline for driving a car or coal for heating a building, for instance.

As a wood product, paper keeps CO2 locked in the fibres, for the duration of its life cycle.

Over the past 40 years, the world's forests have moderated global warming by absorbing around 1/4 of the carbon dioxide emitted by human activities.⁴

Carbon sequestration in forests reduces the rate at which carbon accumulates in the atmosphere and so reduces the rate at which climate change occurs.⁴
